

Qualitative Rapid Test Kit

Background

Camtech Qualitative Rapid Test Kit is based on competitive immunochromatography technology, in which toxins in sample competes with antigen coated on Test line for the colloidal gold labeled antibody. The test result can be observed by naked eyes. The food products that can be tested including milk, eggs, poultry, tobacco, adulteration, grains, feeds, and others. The total assay time takes approximately 10 minutes depending on the types of toxins to be tested.

Components

1. Test strips: 8 pieces per bottle
2. Gold microwell: 8 wells per bottle
3. Bottle per box: Varies depends on products
4. Instruction for use
5. Sample diluent buffer

components might vary according to different types of Rapid Test Kit

Standard Protocol

1. Prepare the test samples. Make proper marks, bring them to room temperature.

2. Take out required test wells, make proper marks.

3. Take 200ul test sample into the wells

4. Mix the sample and reagent in the well completely by pipetting and dropping repeatedly for 5 times. Start the timer when the mixture is pink. Incubate for 5min at room temperature.

5. Insert the test strips into the wells with the "MAX" end fully dipped in to the mixture. Incubate for 5min at room temperature again.

6. Take out the strip; judge the result.
